Hi,

I have been in the place as a parent of two boys knowing first hand what it's like to work in SJC while trying to hang on "with my finger nails" to the only long term rental option for my family while the VR debate goes on for SJC and Lopez. SJC is already a horrendous place to find housing for working families. The VR industry is out of control as it is—let alone adding more VRs! I can't believe the option of adding more VRs is even on the table for discussion!

Thank you!
