I'm speaking somewhat as an outsider, but not for long. I'm moving in my household goods next week, and will be living there full time as of July 1st.

The slower pace of life, community feel, limited traffic, beauty of the landscape, and overall quiet are characteristics that attracted me to the island. If too many vacation rentals are allowed, it will ruin the place. The landscape will be destroyed, it will lose the small-town feel, and it certainly won't be a quiet, restful environment.

I've spent years planning SJI as my place to retire, my place to refresh and rejuvenate. Every bit of me needs this. Please don't take it away.

Thank you for your consideration,
Tamela J Bresler
